Reader's Advisory

The Avery Library at Columbia University has just announced the completion of its two-year collaborative project with the GSAPP Visual Resources Collection (VRC) and ARTstor to present the Avery/GSAPP Architectural Plans & Sections Collection, launched to coincide with the beginning of the 2016/17 academic year. Phase 2 adds another 10,000 images to the collection, bringing the total to more than 20,000 images representing 2,000 projects in 60 countries that are now available for architectural research and instruction around the world. With an overall project focus on 20th century modernism, Phase 2 is particularly notable for the addition of nearly 100 projects by the master architect Le Corbusier, 100 projects in South America, and over 125 in Japan. The images are being added to the ARTstor subscription database.
