Articles & Segments

Booth, Emily. "Despite the Pandemic, Students' Work is Fizzing with Purpose". The Architects' Journal, Vol. 248, Issue 7 (July 2021) p.1.

"All the brilliant and often fleeting things about student life – a time of shared learning, socializing and camaraderie – whittle down to a remote online slog. How do you recreate that essential studio situation, so central to architectural education, in cramped student accommodation, staring into a screen?" (1).

Choy, Yoko. "Access All Areas". Wallpaper, Issue 269 (Sept. 2021). p.81-84.

"The new Depot Boijmans Van Beuningen in Rotterdam, designed by architecture firm MVRDV, is bucking this trend, making 99 per cent of its building accessible to the public and its entire collection of some 151,000 artefacts available for viewing" (81).

David Scott Parker Architects. "The Mark Twain House & Museum". Clem Labine's Traditional Building, Vol. 34, Issue 4 (Aug. 2021). p.60.

"Twain and his work designed an important aspect and era of our culture, and the Mahogany Suite is a celebration of this, ringing together fascinating details of America's heritage in a single guest quarter" (60).

Donovan, Shaun and Jerold Kayden. "Never Let A Crisis Go To Waste". Harvard Design Magazine, Issue 48 (Spring/Summer 2021). p.86-91.

"With the right leadership, I am confident that New York City can recover. But I also believe that the underlying dynamics that have made New York City increasingly unaffordable remain. We can use this as an opportunity to reimagine New York and make it more equitable, sustainable, and inclusive" (90).

Garcia, Cruz. "Opinion: Everyone Wants to Be a Savior". Architect: The AIA Journal, Vol. 110, Issue 5(July-Aug. 2021). p.32.

"Who of us are allowed to fight? In this country, we have seen little improvement other than sugarcoating the grim reality and the usual declaration: 'Yes, we are committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion' – three abstract terms that could mean anything and address nothing in particular" (32).

Heathcote, Edwin. "From Pillar to Lamppost". The Architectural Review, Issue 1484 (Sept. 2021). p.24-28.

“The way in which night co-exists with day is the perfect cipher for a device that turns darkness into light but is also an intimation of the unnatural state of the city, a place that come alive in the dark” (27).

Irace, Fulvio. “La Historia Ciclica: Gio Ponti in XXL Format”. Arquitectura Viva, Issue 236 (July-Aug. 2021). p.47-49.

“Ponti theorized the circularity of history, intimidated by the pedantry of the history of his time. Perhaps now is the time to demonstrate that history is also and above all critical, able to discern and evaluate, to create sales of values and far-reaching perspectives” (49).

Kolbert Dan and Peter Wojcieszek. “Footing Retrofit in a Day”. Fine Homebuilding, Issue 301 (Aug.-Sept. 2021). p.46-51.

“When the problem is all the way down at the footing, the work is usually riskier, dirtier, and more expensive than a lot of other repairs. This helical-pier solution to a footing retrofit solved for two of those challenges – we didn’t have to shore up the house or worry about trench safety, and we didn’t have much digging to do” (47).

McKee, Bradford. “Big Tree, Small World”. Landscape Architecture Magazine, Vol. 111, Issue 9 (Sept. 2021). p.42-50.

“We’re getting past the notion that humans and nature are separate. People are getting used to the inevitable reality of humans and nature coexisting” (50).

Myers, Jess. “Conversation: Esther Choi”. Dwell, Vol. XXI, Issue 5 (Sept.-Oct. 2021). p.44-48.

“[Esther] Choi, an artist with a PhD in the history and theory of architecture from Princeton and a practice that straddles design, photography, and the culinary arts, is creating a new mentorship model that ties together minds around the world. Since the summer of 2020, she has been organizing sessions connecting young BIPOC students and practitioners in informal online conversations with more established design professionals of color. She calls the events Office Hours...” (44).

Novakovic, Stefan and Tura Cousins Wilson. "Community Ties". Azure, Issue 288 (Sept.-Oct. 2021). p.78-83.

"Yet design still matters...But in transforming the architect from a design visionary into a steward of community and culture, it is a radical a change as any" (83).

Polescuk, Sanya. "Retrofit Case Study: Fit for the Future". Architecture Today, Issue 314 (July-Aug. 2021). p.56-66.

"Sanya Polescuk Architects has reotriffted an unloved 1950s terraced house to make a home that is refreshed, expanded and entirely fossil-fuel free. Sanya Polescuk explains the conservation issues with the urgent need to inject our housing stock with a new and sustainable lease of life" (56).

n.a. "The Post-Lockdown Office Can Be A Lonely Place". The Architects' Journal, Vol.248, Issue 08 (Aug. 2021). p.20.

"I thought returning to work in the office would be like sunshine breaking through the clouds, but actually it's brought a whole new wave of weird behaviours, hallmarks of a deeper disquiet" (20).

Salama, Ashraf M. and Laura MacLean. "The Imagined and the Experienced: Contrasting Realities in the Riverside Museum of Glasgow". Traditional Dwellings and Settlements Review, Vol. XXXIII, Issue 1 (Fall 2021). p.65.

"Adopting a Lefebvrian point of view, this paper examines these two different but related types of space – the conceived(imagined), and the perceived and the lived (experienced) – as they relate to Zaha Hadid's Riverside Museum in Glasgow, winner of the 2013 European Museum of the Year Award" (65).

Starck, Philippe. "Une Maison ne Doit pas Couter plus Cher Qu'Une Voiture = A House Should Not Cost More Than A Car". AA: :'Architecture D'Aujourd Hui, Issue 444 (Aug.-Sept. 2021). p.70-71.

"I think that the world of construction needs to clean up, get over its venality, its greed, its narcissism, and return to the necessity which consists in providing a roof to the people who are feeding a galloping demography” (71).

Sutherland, Amy. “Power Play”. Preservation, Vol. 73, Issue 3 (Summer 2021). p.36-43.

“There [the Roslindale Substation] sat for nearly 50 years, because no one knew what to do with it. This is a conundrum for many historic industrial buildings, but especially for one as idiosyncratic as an electrical substation. How do you reuse even a beautifully built one?” (38).
